

RE: TRAVIS, A New Documentary Film

Film Maker, Jennifer W. Stein, and her Co producer Bob Terrio Won two EBE awards at the Open Minds film festival in Scottsdale Arizona on Saturday, February 28, 2015. This is Jennifer's 4th EBE award.

"Travis" is a 90 – minute documentary film recounting the now-world famous 1975 UFO abduction of Travis Walton and the impact it has had on his life over the intervening forty years – and on the lives of others who were also involved. You can view the trailer at <https://vimeo.com/121384211>. You can watch a January 2015 interview that Executive Producer Jennifer Stein did with Ron James, founder of Iovle TV, a new on line streaming program that addresses some of the bigger questions facing humanity:

The film, Travis – The True story of Travis Walton, was three years in the making. All of the living members of the original logging crew are featured in the film. Current and archived interviews with the Police Sherriff at the time, and the Chief Polygraph expert for the state of Arizona in 1975, as well as UFO experts Stanton Friedman, Kathy Marden, Ben Hansen, James Fox, Peter Robbins, & Lee Spiegel.

The true story has never been told in a documentary film and Jennifer believed the time had come to archive these interviews and testimonies for the public record for the next generation. This year will mark the 40th anniversary of the Travis Walton incident. This event will be celebrated with a 40th Anniversary UFO Conference in Heber Arizona, including a tour to the actual forest incident location and a three day UFO conference with top experts in the field. The film, TRAVIS, will be featured as part of this three-day conference. Event coordinators include Travis Walton, Karen Brard, Peter Robbins, Ron Williams, Ben Hansen, and Stacy Wright and Jim Mann from Phoenix MUFON.

Stein said, "I acknowledge the bravery of Travis and his fellow logging crew-members who could have debunked this story because of the unfavorable media attention it was getting. They could have saved themselves from years of ridicule and claimed it was all a hoax, but they never did.... They all stuck to the truth their story, all these 40 years in spite of the ridicule they endured. The film is a personal interest story into how this event challenged their lives and changed their lives forever."

This three-year project would not have been possible without the amazing cast and crew who lent their talents and support to the project. Our list of crew, researchers, and support staff is listed at the EKP/Synopsis/Media Kit page of the web site.

Jennifer's Co Producer was Bob Terrio. Additional support provided by, Adam Stein from Bloom-Garden films, Los Angeles, Zachary Weil, from Two of Us Productions, Los Angeles. Associate Producers, Peter Robbins, Ron James, Stanton Freidman, Brian Farrell, Gary Hilton, Ben Hansen, and Travis Walton.

Astronaut Edgar Mitchell provides an impressive endorsement for this film on the web site.

This was a three-year project in the making and would not have been possible without the support a long list of support staff listed in the film's credits and the media page of the web site.

Stein said, "Bob Terrio and I undertook this project with Travis, because Hollywood would not, or could not tell the true story of Travis Walton. We don't need to make these stories up, that only confuses everyone, & the truth is more interesting."

Their goal was to make a documentary that was not a UFO film, but a great documentary about what happened to logging crew in 1975 in Heber Arizona, because this event could have happened to anyone. They hope the film serves as a breakthrough film in traditional film festivals, helping to open the minds of others not necessarily interested in the UFO phenomena, who might find compassion for Travis and his logging crew.

It has been 40 years, and this November 5th 2015 a group of us will be gathering to mark this historic event with a conference in North Eastern Arizona called the Sky-Fire Summit. For information on the conference: Sky Fire Summit.com
