TRAVIS: The True Story of Travis Walton

A DOCUMENTARY BY ONWINGES PRODUCTIONS, LLC

SYNOPSIS

Driving home after a day of clearing brush in the forest, six lumberjacks come upon a 40-foot disk hovering silently over the crest of a ridge. As if spellbound, Travis Walton jumps from the passenger side of the truck, running towards it for a closer look.

That decision November 5, 1975 would change him forever.

The 21-year-old logger from Snowflake, Arizona was struck by a powerful blue beam of light from the craft. He disappeared for five days, igniting a firestorm of controversy aimed at the logging crew who were the last to see him. Travis Walton's 1975 experience comes alive as he recounts the ordeal.

TRAVIS combines new and archived interviews with the logging crew, police and the polygraph examiner. Walton explains how this event changed his life forever, as the media, skeptics and debunkers attacked him, his friends and family.

UFO experts explain why this story continues to astound investigators, astrophysicists and journalists as they investigate for reliable evidence of other worlds, other beings, and more advanced technologies.

FILMMAKER'S NOTES

How many times have you heard, "How close is the film to the book?"

In the case of TRAVIS, this new documentary, you'll see plenty of archived plus new footage that we've dug, fought and paid for. You'll meet the men who worked alongside Travis Walton in the logging crew, who today reluctantly come together to talk about the day that turned their lives upside down.

"What was the easy part? Finding archived footage from the 70's, 80, & 90's.. What was difficult? Everything else," Jennifer Stein laughs.

The UFO experience was well documented originating from reliable polygraph experts, police, family members, psychologists, and UFO researchers at the time."I never intended to make a documentary about Travis," she insists. Instead, she started planning a 40th anniversary conference commemorating the UFO incident in the Sitgreaves Forest. Her plans gelled when she met Travis Walton in 2010.

Travis would assemble his logging crew and contact the key figures who managed the case in 1975. She would create a virtual site tour for conference attendees should bad weather prevent the hike up to Mongollon Crest (trailhead elevation 9,000 ft.) She and fellow filmmaker Bob Terrio shot a prelim, Tracking Skyfire with Travis narrating.

Among the crew: the Navajo Search and Rescue team, a UFO enthusiast who loaned his Go Pro for aerial shots, the sheriff of Holbrook, AZ, the lead polygraph examiner, animation artists, UFO experts, authors, broadcasters, editors and especially Travis.

Travis's story remains one of the most intriguing and best-documented UFO encounters of all time. Paramount Pictures' 1993 release of Fire in the Sky fictionalized the events into a dramatic re-enactment, inspiring Travis to provide a more truthful account. He published his book, Fire in the Sky in 1995.

"Even Hollywood couldn't make up this story," Jennifer remarks. "And it's true."

DIRECTOR'S BIO

Jennifer W. Stein-EXECUTIVE PRODUCER AND WRITER

Since 1989 she has been making documentary films. In 2012 Jennifer won two Open Minds' International UFO Congress film festival awards for The Disclosure Dialogues with filmmaker Ron James, then in 2015, two EBEs at the 2015 Open Minds' film festival for Travis: The True Story of Travis Walton with Bob Terrio.

"Travis – The True Story of Travis Walton" has won 29 "official section" award laurels at numerous main stream film festivals in the past 2 years. In addition it has won several special category awards at selected film festivals for best documentary film, best personal story, best narrative and best true story documentary film.

Jennifer has produced numerous video treatments for experts in the UFO field, for charities, writers, and organizations. She hosts her cable network television show in Radnor, PA, "Main Line MUFON." (Mutual UFO Network).

A self-taught filmmaker who never went to film school, she first captured the life of her good friend, Rita Levin who died in a terrorist attack in Israel. Her film, a fund-raiser, dramatized the cause for women's legal aid in Carmiel, Israel.

Harnessing the power of the moving visual image to educate, inspire and empower, Jennifer uses film to help achieve important goals. Her interests are wide: peace projects, sensible gun ownership legislation, environmental awareness, and appreciation of ancient history, archaeology, and artifacts, UFOs crop circles, yoga, meditation, macrobiotics, and ESP to name a few. She holds a B.S. in textiles from the University of Arizona.

Ben Hansen is the lead host and investigator of the Syfy channel's Fact or Faked: Paranormal Files. Now in its 4th season, the show focuses on recreating videos and photos of alleged paranormal events to see if they have a natural explanation, were hoaxed, or if they remain unexplained. The six-person team takes on cases of ghosts, UFOs, Bigfoot, chupacabras, mermaids, and other unusual occurrences.

Hansen graduated from the University of Utah and went to work investigating child physical abuse and sex crimes at the state level for several years before moving on to work for the FBI.

He eventually landed in Hollywood, where he helped develop what would later become a hit paranormal show, Fact or Faked. Hansen is spokesperson for Bushnell's line of night vision equipment (www.nightvisionops.com.)

When he's not filming, he travels the country lecturing, conducting public UFO and ghost investigating events, and developing new reality show projects.
